Cappagh (contd.)

on the North by the townland of LaCharoo; on the East by the Parish of Kilgarvan; on the South by the townland of Gurtlahard and on the West by Druminassig townland in Kenmare parish.

x   A Townland, The property of Trinity College.   Consisting of a considerable portion of Mountain Pasture with about 80 acres of tillage, having a bye road running through it, and the Rooghty River for a considerable distance on its W. boundary.   Names in this Townland are Cappagh, B. 831, p.16.

Corrignahehalan (93)   -- B.S. Sketch Map   6

        Carraig na h-iotlann, rock of the haggard (hay-yard).

Carrignahihilan   -- J.O'D.
Carrignahillin   -- Rent book as in p.3.
Carrignahehilan   -- Parish tithe book as in p.17
Carricknahihilane   -- Barony Map
Carricknahihilane   -- Larkin's County Map 1814

        In the S.West of the Parish of Kenmare and bounded on the N. and partly on the E. by the townland of Gurtalinny (South); on the East also by Gurradaveen; on the South by Gurtrooskagh and Ballygriffin and on the West by Gurtnadillogh.

        Townland, the property of Marquis of Lansdowne; consisting principally of mountain pasture with a stripe of tillage along its N.E. boundary and a few patches interspersed near its centre.   The road leading from Bantry to Kenmare runs through it and the Rooghty River runs for a considerable distance on its Eastern boundary.   There is also a plantation in the N.E. extremity of the townland.

Caher East (93)   -- B.S. Sketch Map   7

        An Cathair, the Cyclopean stone fort.

Caher East   -- J.O'D.
Cahir East   -- Rent book furnished by Mr. Hick-son, Agent.
Cahir East   -- Barony Map
Cahir East   -- Larkin's County Map 1814
Cahir East   -- Parish tithe book as in p.17
Cahir   -- Acts of Settlement &c.
Caghir   -- Vallancey's Map

        In the East of the Parish of Kenmare and bounded on the N. by the townlands of Gurtlassa, Tusthaan (Lower), Gurtna-Curra and Corrigweanisk; on the East by the Parish of Kilgarvan; on the South by the townlands of Letter (Lower), Kilgortaree and Droummathouk and on the W. by Cahera West.